

EDITORIAL

Elmedin MURATBEGOVIĆ, PhD – Associate professor

Dear Reader,

The Journal of Criminal Justice Issues (JCJI) focuses on critical issues in contemporary criminal justice and offers a cogent, thorough, and timely exploration of several topics, such as organised transnational crime, sex trafficking, environmental crime, social disorder etc. This is our second English language-edition, edited by Elmedin Muratbegović (Associated professor, Faculty of Criminal Justice and Security Studies). As the second number of the new series, Journal of Criminal Justice Issues is the first Bosnian Journal in the field of Criminology, Criminal Justice and Security to be published in the English language. Though most of the articles share a modern perspective on criminal justice, the authors represent a diversity of interests and backgrounds and offer an authoritative, balanced examination of a variety of critical issues in criminal justice, criminology and security studies.

Enjoy

Muratbegović Elmedin

Sarajevo, March 2013